Summary of Course

This course aims to provide foundational understandings of the concepts, skills, and issues in music education. Students will critically examine the music curriculum and its implementation in schools. Students will be introduced to the processes of planning individual lessons and sequences of lessons, teaching composing, listening, and performing, using information and communication technology (ICT) and assessing student learning. Learning will be contextualised in knowledge about the nature of music and music education in Australia.

The main ways in which the course has changed since last time as a result of student feedback:

- Increased time discussing assessments including examples of lesson plans and Units of work
- Inclusion of more ICT strategies in composition and administration through demonstration in tutorials and at school visits
- Ensuring opportunity to practise conducting.

Assessment: Please note that all students must pass all assignments to pass the course, and they must pass the course to go on placement for PE 1.

Attendance: Students are expected to give priority to university study commitments. Unless specific and formal permission has been granted, attendance at less than 80% of classes in a course may result in failure.

4. RATIONALE FOR THE INCLUSION OF CONTENT AND TEACHING APPROACH

In addition to learning some basic skills and concepts in music education, students undertaking this course will think deeply about some of the most critical issues facing music educators. The course is designed with a view to students eventually becoming excellent teachers who are able to continue to improve the quality of music education in Australia. In addition to traditional lectures, the course also involves workshops where students will take part in simulated classroom activities, critical discussions, and reflective observations of music education in practice.

5. TEACHING STRATEGIES

- Explicit teaching, including lectures, to demonstrate an understanding of students' different approaches to learning and the use of a range of teaching strategies to foster interest and support learning.
- Small group cooperative learning to understand the importance of teamwork in an educational context and to demonstrate the use of group structures as appropriate to address teaching and learning goals.
- Extensive opportunities for whole group and small group dialogue and discussion, allowing students the opportunity to demonstrate their capacity to communicate and liaise with the diverse members of an education community, and to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of method content.
- Online learning from readings on the Moodle website.
- Peer teaching in a simulated classroom setting and classroom teaching in small groups.
- Structured occasions for reflection on learning to allow students to reflect critically on and improve teaching practice.

These activities will occur in a classroom climate that is supportive and inclusive of all learners.

Students are required to follow their lecturer's instructions when submitting their work for assessment. All assessment will be submitted online via Moodle by 5pm. Student no longer need to use a cover sheet. Students are also required to keep all drafts, original data and other evidence of the authenticity of the work for at least one year after examination. If an assessment is mislaid the student is responsible for providing a further copy. Please see the Student Policies and Procedures for information regarding submission, extensions, special consideration, late penalties and hurdle requirements etc.

Assessment 1 – Planning and Teaching

Plan a series of 3 sequenced lessons for Stage 4. The topic will be given to you in class. Try to incorporate a variety of singing, performing, composing, improvising, and listening activities, and demonstrate that most of the lessons use integrated activities.

Use the planning template provided in class. Attach a rationale or explanation of at least 500 words to outline your approach to the lesson plans, why you designed them in the way you did, and why you chose the particular strategies. Develop effective teaching and learning strategies for meeting the needs of Aboriginal, Torres Strait Islanders, English as a second language and language background other than English students, including literacy and numeracy. Be sure to use a wide range of ICT pedagogical approaches and include reference to topics, concepts and readings from the online module: '(Re) thinking education: curriculum-pedagogy-assessment'.

Assessment 2 – Unit of Work for Stage 5.

You will design a Unit of Work for Stage 5. The Unit of Work must have enough content for a 10 week term with a balance of performance, composition and listening activities. You must include a substantial component addressing the notation literacy requirements for Stage 5, including a score analysis and activities that require students to produce notation.

You must include:

1. A rationale of 500 words that describes how you have put together the activities and how you address the syllabus outcomes.
2. A description of each lesson (50-100 words). Include a column describing evidence of learning for each activity. Include a column referring to attached resources or other internet resources, text books, or special equipment required for the class. Make sure you use a variety of resources and acknowledge all sources if applicable.
3. Attach all visual material, worksheets, and presentations you will use. You do not need to attach audio material on CD or DVD but in the resources column you must refer to specific recordings and, if necessary, timing of excerpts. Do not use YouTube links solely for all aural stimuli.
4. An assessment task near the end of the Unit. Follow the guidelines provided in class for preparing an assessment task.

Microteaching

Microteaching is the planning, presentation and evaluation of a lesson. This semester there will be two compulsory sessions for microteaching:

1. Team teaching with a Stage 4 or Stage 5 music class. The lesson topic will be given to you. You will plan either a listening, performance or composition lesson. Class times and groups will be organised in tutorials. Each student must teach a 10 minute continuous section of the lesson.
2. A lesson based on a resource or stimulus given by the tutorial leader. Part of the teaching sequence needs to focus on explicit teaching of a literacy/numeracy skill. Students will again work in groups to prepare a lesson plan and presentation will be given to peers.

Initial Lesson Plan: All students must submit to the method lecturer their proposed lesson plan at least one week prior to the presentation. This will be returned with comments on the suitability of the proposal.

Microteaching: This will be assessed according to the attached criteria, and will be graded as Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory. Any student whose first microteaching episode is judged as unsatisfactory will be given a further (one only) opportunity to gain a satisfactory grade.

NOTE: If a student is assessed as unsatisfactory in microteaching s/he will automatically fail Method 1 overall, and not be permitted to undertake Professional Experience or any further method work in that teaching area until the key concerns have been resolved
