Summary of Course
This course introduces students to key concepts, issues, and debates in language and literacy education, with particular reference to the language and literacy demands of the secondary curriculum, language-based pedagogy, and adolescent literacy. It draws on current research to identify likely areas of difficulty in language and literacy learning and discusses effective teaching strategies for learners, including English as an additional language/dialect learners.

Based on last year’s student feedback, the following course changes have been made:
We will have a break in the middle of the two hour lecture, and include more subject-specific literacy readings.

Important Information
Assessment: Students must pass ALL assignments to pass the course. Only by passing all assignments can the Graduate Attributes (AITSL Professional Graduate Teaching Standards) be achieved.

Attendance: Students are expected to give priority to university study commitments. Unless specific and formal permission has been granted, failure to attend 80% of classes in a course may result in failure.
Student Learning Outcomes

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Outcome</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Understand the English language and literacy demands of schooling and identify equity implications and issues for diverse students’ access to and achievement in the academic curriculum</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>Apply this knowledge to designing a range of language and literacy-developing tasks as well as develop effective teaching strategies with EAL/D students in the mainstream.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>Identify the constraints and opportunities shaping language and literacy teaching and learning in classrooms</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>Integrate theoretical perspectives about language and literacy with subject area knowledge and teaching practice and apply these understandings to reflect on and improve teaching practice</td>

4. RATIONALE FOR THE INCLUSION OF CONTENT AND TEACHING APPROACH

Language and literacy underpins students’ learning and achievement in all curriculum areas. The cultural and linguistic diversity of the NSW population means that in many schools learning English as an additional language is a mainstream endeavour. Teachers therefore need to be equipped with theoretical and practical knowledge about language and literacy issues in order to be able to develop a language-based pedagogy for an inclusive curriculum. Course content and processes reflect and model a sociocultural approach to language and literacy education.

5. TEACHING STRATEGIES

Teaching strategies used during the course will include:

- Small group learning to model the importance of teamwork in an educational context and to demonstrate the use of group structures as appropriate to address teaching and learning goals;
- Structured occasions for reflection to allow students to reflect critically on teaching practice;
- Opportunities for whole group and small group dialogue and discussion, allowing students the opportunity to demonstrate their capacity to communicate and liaise with the diverse members of an education community, and to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of method content.
- Online learning on the course Moodle website and associated myUNSW resources.

These activities will occur in a classroom climate that is supportive and inclusive of all learners.

Students are required to follow their lecturer’s instructions when submitting their work for assessment. All assessment will be submitted online via Moodle by 5pm. Student no longer need to use a cover sheet. Students are also required to keep all drafts, original data and other evidence of the authenticity of the work for at least one year after examination. If an assessment is mislaid the student is responsible for providing a further copy. Please see the Student Policies and Procedures for information regarding submission, extensions, special consideration, late penalties and hurdle requirements etc.

Assignment 1: Annotated bibliographies (40%)

Purpose: To assess analytical and applied research skills relating to relevant language and literacy education literature.

Brief: Write THREE annotated bibliographies for THREE journal articles from the tutorial reading schedule – don’t use the textbook chapters, only the ‘other readings’ articles list. Select articles that are most relevant to your teaching subject area and/or your particular professional interests.

Each of the three annotated bibliographies should be in two parts as follows:
1) A summary of the main argument/ideas from the article. You should summarise the article focus/topic, context, and important research findings or theoretical principles.
2) An evaluative commentary discussing the educational implications and significance of the argument/ideas contained in the article.
3) A discussion of implications that all the three articles have future teaching practice (e.g. the ways you can use relevant findings in teaching. Please give specific examples to illustrate the discussion).

Due: Upload to Moodle by 5pm, Thursday 12th April

Word limit: 2,000 words (write about 500 words per annotated bibliography + 500 words for implications)

Resources: Tutorial readings (all available on Moodle)
Assignment 2: Language and literacy activity design - tutorial presentation (formative assessment)

Purpose: To assess application of theory and practice to a disciplinary language and literacy teaching activity design.

Brief: Presentation then combined file of sample classroom material/activity, aimed at scaffolding students' literacy development in a subject area other than English to peers.

The presentation should address the following:

1. Subject language and literacy demands: what are the linguistic and literacy difficulties for students?
2. Activity design: What will the teacher do? What will the students do? How does it work? What are its aims? What will students learn? Are any variations/ modification needed?

Note: The activity MUST be something that you have developed yourselves – NOT something you have found online etc.!

Include the following: sample of the classroom activity; procedures/requirements for student use of the activity; student language and literacy being developed; variations/modifications (as required). Presentations will be made to small groups of peers in tutorials, then after formative feedback, uploaded to Moodle for record.

Note: You will NOT actually be teaching your activity during the presentation, just presenting the design and rationale behind it (based on theories from this course). You will be given the chance to ‘teach’ your activity to your tutorial group in weeks 10-12, but this will not be formally assessed.

Due: Presentations will be given in tutorials in week 9 (Friday, May 4th) and 10 (Friday, May 11th) according to an agreed schedule. Then upload the PPT and teaching activity to Moodle by the following Mondays at 5pm (7th May and 14th May).

Resources: Tutorial readings (all available on Moodle), textbook, your creation of classroom activity/ies including any necessary materials.

Assignment 3: Essay (60%)

Purpose: To assess your ability to apply your understanding of the course material to a critical analysis of an aspect of literacy teaching and learning.

Essay: You will draw on relevant readings and reflect on the comments you will have received from the tutor and peers on your activity design to further elaborate the design and rationale behind the literacy and language activity you designed. Please also discuss how the activity may be further refined and why.

Word limit: 2000 words (+/- 10%)

Due: Upload to Moodle by 5pm, Thursday 7th June

GENERAL COMMENTS/RECOMMENDATIONS FOR NEXT TIME
Specific Criteria

Understanding of the question or issue and the key concepts involved

- Adherence to task brief and answering the question
- Understanding of key concepts demonstrated by definition (where relevant) and use in the essay

Depth of analysis and/or critique in response to the task

- Depth of analysis/critique demonstrated through discussion of the various components of the task (see essay question)
- Integration of concepts from across the entire language and literacy course (as relevant) demonstrated through analysis and critique in the essay
- Evidence of critical thinking demonstrated through use of evidence/logical substantive arguments to support points

Familiarity with and relevance of professional and/or research literature used to support response

- Reference to a variety of texts used on the course
- Reference, where relevant, to other texts/materials

Structure and organisation of response

- Structure of assignment, adherence to word count and logical division of word count between sections of the text.

Presentation of response according to appropriate academic and linguistic conventions

- Quality of academic writing (including coherence and cohesion of text); adherence to referencing conventions.
