3. COURSE DETAILS

Course Name	Building Resilience in the Workplace
Credit Points	6 units of credit (UOC)
Workload	Includes 150 hours including class contact hours, readings, class preparation, assessment, follow-up activities, etc.
Schedule	http://classutil.unsw.edu.au/EDST_T1.html

4. SUMMARY OF COURSE

In this course, you will learn about the importance of resilience and wellbeing among educators. With foundations in theory and empirical research, this course is also highly practical. You will learn evidence-based strategies for maintaining and promoting your own wellbeing, as well as resources and strategies relevant to school leaders (e.g., principals, head teachers) aiming to promote broader change. You will acquire knowledge of the significance of educator wellbeing and resilience for students, teachers, and schools, as well as issues specific to certain types of educators (e.g., principals, early career teachers).

The main ways in which the course has changed since last time as a result of student feedback:

- A slide will be added at the beginning of each day highlighting where we are up to in the course.
- Several content slides have been moved to earlier in the day and afternoon sessions have more time allocated to discussions and videos.
- A summary of main points covered each day is now included to help consolidate learning.

5. IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Assessment: Students must pass ALL assessments to pass the course. Only by passing all assessments can the AITSL Professional Graduate Teaching Standards be achieved.

Attendance: It is expected that any student enrolled in an EDST course with the School of Education will make a commitment to their learning and attend all classes in full where content is delivered in a face-to-face mode except in certain circumstances where absence is due to illness, misadventure or unforeseen circumstances beyond the student's control. A minimum attendance requirement of 80% is required for each course. In certain circumstances, a student may miss up to 20% of a course without formal documentation and up to 33% of a course with formal documentation (sent via email to course convenor) providing all the requirements detailed below are met. Students not meeting the attendance requirements outlined above will be awarded an Unsatisfactory Fail (UF) for that course regardless of their performance in the assessment tasks or other requirements for the course.

Please note the following attendance expectations, requirements, and consequences:

- A minimum attendance requirement of 80% of all scheduled classes (i.e. lectures, tutorials, workshops, seminars) for the subject in which you are enrolled is required by UNSW
- Attendance in person is the only option for tutorials, seminars, and workshops.
- Where attendance is recorded for a scheduled class (i.e. lectures, tutorials, workshops, seminars) either by electronic means or via an attendance register it is the responsibility of the student to make sure they successfully record their attendance by providing all the details required.

It is the responsibility of the student to catch up on any learning missed due to absences.

The School of Education upholds the UNSW attendance policy and is in accordance with the Arts and Social Sciences guidelines and expectations. UNSW policy on Attendance and Absence that can be found at: <https://www.arts.unsw.edu.au/current-students/academic-information/Protocols-Guidelines/#attendanceguidelines>

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Outcome	Assessment/s
1 Students will understand research- and theory-based concepts of wellbeing and resilience	1, 2, 3
2 Students will be able to apply key evidence-based strategies for promoting their own wellbeing as an educator, along with strategies and resources for how this is promoted at a school-wide level.	1, 2, 3
3 Students will be able to distinguish key outcomes that are associated with educator wellbeing and resilience, as well as issues that are specific to certain types of educators	2, 3

PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES

Standard	Assessment/s
Advanced disciplinary knowledge and practices 1 Demonstrate an advanced understanding of the field of education as it relates to their specialist area of study, and the ability to synthesize and apply disciplinary principles and practices to new or complex environments.	2, 3
Enquiry-based learning 2 Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of research-based learning and the ability to plan, analyse, present implement and evaluate complex activities that contribute to advanced professional practice and/or intellectual scholarship in education.	2,3
Cognitive skills and critical thinking 3 Demonstrate advanced critical thinking and problem solving skills	1, 2, 3
Communication, adaptive and interactional skills 4 Communicate effectively to a range of audiences, and be capable of independent and collaborative enquiry and team-based leadership	1, 2, 3
Global outlook 5 Demonstrate an understanding of international perspectives relevant to the educational field	3
Ethics 6	1, 2, 3

Demonstrate an advanced capacity to recognise and negotiate the complex and often contested values and ethical practices that underlie education

---

6. AITSL PROFESSIONAL GRADUATE TEACHER STANDARDS

Standard	Assessment/s
6.1.3	1, 2
6.4.4	3

7. RATIONALE FOR THE INCLUSION OF CONTENT AND TEACHING APPROACH

Research suggests that educator wellbeing and resilience is important for thriving teachers, students, and schools. This course aims to provide students with an understanding of wellbeing and resilience among educators (primarily teachers, but also other positions such as principals). Students will be exposed to several relevant theoretical frameworks along with current research in the area. Clear links with practice will also be emphasised throughout the course activities and the assessment tasks. In particular, students will be encouraged to consider how their developing knowledge of the wellbeing and resilience literature is relevant to their own practice and that of other educators.

8. TEACHING STRATEGIES

- explicit teaching including intensive day-long seminars using a range of teaching strategies to foster interest and support learning;
- structured occasions for reflection on learning allow students to reflect critically on issues discussed;
- extensive opportunities for small group dialogue and discussion, allowing students the opportunity to demonstrate their capacity to communicate, to question and to problem solve

9. COURSE CONTENT AND STRUCTURE

Lecture	Seminar Topics
1. 6 hour face-to-face seminar	Course Introduction What is wellbeing? What is resilience?
2. 6 hour face-to-face seminar	Theoretical Models of Stress, Wellbeing, and Resilience
3. 6 hour face-to-face seminar	School-Level Approaches to Supporting Wellbeing and Resilience Individual Approaches to Supporting Wellbeing and Resilience
4. 6 hour face-to-face seminar	Outcomes of Wellbeing and Resilience

10. RESOURCES

Required Readings

Before the Course Begins: Students will be asked to read 8-10 journal articles or chapters prior to the start of the course. These are required reading for the first assessment of the course, which is due before the course begins. They will also provide a broad overview of the topics covered in the course.

During the Course: Once the course begins, students will be expected to read 1-2 journal articles or chapters before each class.

Readings will be distributed on Moodle and emailed to students before each class.

Further Readings

Additional readings will also be provided on the Moodle site for each topic.

11. ASSESSMENT

Assessment Task	Length	Weight	Student Learning Outcomes Assessed	Program Learning Outcomes Assessed	Due Date
Assessment 1 Wellbeing and Resilience Reflection	1,800 words	20%	1, 3	3, 4, 6	Monday March 11, 5pm
Assessment 2 Personal Wellbeing and Resilience Plan	2,000 words	40%	1, 2, 3, 4	1, 2, 3, 4, 6	Monday May 13, 5pm
Assessment 3 Wellbeing and Resilience Resource or Report	2,000 words	40%	1, 2, 3, 4	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	Monday May 27, 5pm

Students are required to follow their lecturer's instructions when submitting their work for assessment. All assessment will be submitted online via Moodle by 5pm. Student no longer need to use a cover sheet. Students are also required to keep all drafts, original data and other evidence of the authenticity of the work for at least one year after examination. If an assessment is mislaid the student is responsible for providing a further copy. Please see the Student Policies and Procedures for information regarding submission, extensions, special consideration, late penalties and hurdle requirements etc.

Feedback

Assessment Task	Feedback Mechanism	Feedback Date
Assessment One	Written	Within 10 Working Days
Assessment Two	Written	Within 10 Working Days
Assessment Three	Written	Within 10 Working Days

Assessment 1: Wellbeing and Resilience Reflection (20%) – 1800 words (not including reference list)

You will reflect on your experiences of wellbeing and resilience at work and interpret these by making links with the assigned pre-course readings.

Part 1: Description:

- Think about an experience you have had in teaching where your wellbeing/resilience was supported and another where your wellbeing/resilience was not supported.
- Describe these two experiences (around 200 words each). These can be one-off experiences or ongoing ones.

Part 2: Links with Literature

- Consider the following questions and make authentic links to the knowledge you have gained from the assigned readings.
  - How do the assigned readings inform your understanding of these experiences?
  - To what extent have your perceptions of the experiences changed after the readings?

Part 3: Comparing Experiences

- Compare the two experiences:
  - How do they differ?
  - What was lacking or present?
  - Make clear links to concepts covered in the readings when answering these questions.

Part 4: Moving Forwards

- Consider the following questions and write at least two answers for each:
  - What remaining questions do you have about these experiences, the readings, or the topic in general?
  - What do you want to learn about wellbeing and resilience?

This assignment will help you prepare for the course and identify your prior understanding and experiences of wellbeing and resilience.

Important Notes:

- The word limit is constrained and so it is very important that you attend directly to the questions above. There is no need to summarise the literature in this Assessment Task. Your reflections are the key content that will be assessed and the extent to which you concisely show depth of understanding, sophisticated reflection, and changes in understanding.
- Make authentic links in your writing to at least 4 different assigned readings.
- First-person language is appropriate (as this is based upon your experiences).
- The use of headings for the different sections is encouraged.
- This reflection should be double-spaced, size 12 font, and written in APA style; see the following website for assistance with this: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/>
- The UNSW Learning Centre can provide support for academic writing and referencing styles: <https://student.unsw.edu.au/skills>
- All assessments should be submitted through Turnitin on the course's Moodle website (see Turnitin spot in Learning Activity pane).

Assessment 2: Personal Wellbeing and Resilience Plan (40%) – 2000 words (not including reference list)

You will develop a personal plan for supporting your wellbeing and resilience at work.

Part 1. Describe your working context and the unique challenges and supports that you have as an educator in this job. This should be 400 words or less.

Part 2. Choose one area in which your wellbeing/resilience could be better supported (e.g., workload, interactions with students or their parents). Identify specific practices/strategies you could put in place to better support your wellbeing and resilience. Make links to theories/constructs/practices we have covered in this course. To address these aspects, include answers to the following questions:

1. What are the goals of the plan? Why is this important to address?
2. What constructs/theories covered in the course are relevant (around 2-3; make sure you define key terms briefly)? Why?
3. What specific actions can you undertake required to meet the goals (relevant to resources, time, activities, etc.)?
4. Are there any supports needed to help you successfully undertake these actions (from your workplace, family, friends etc.)?
5. What challenges are there to implementing these actions? How can these be addressed?
6. What evidence-based outcomes are associated with these types of actions (e.g., job satisfaction, student achievement, lower absenteeism)?
7. How could you feasibly and practically assess the effectiveness of the plan? What would you be looking for?

This assignment will help you make links between course content and your own practice as an educator. It will also further build your familiarity with the main theories and research covered in the course.

Important Notes:

- A key aim of this assignment is to provide a practical resource, so provide specific and detailed practical actions and strategies you can undertake to improve/evaluate your wellbeing and resilience. These should be based on academic literature and refer to how you will implement (questions 3-5) and assess (question 7) the plan.
- Make clear and authentic references to relevant literature we have covered in class.
- Use direct quotes from sources sparingly. Paraphrase quotes into your own word wherever possible as it better shows your depth of understanding.
- Dot points are acceptable (and may help you to keep within the word limit).
- Please copy the questions into your response and write your comments below each one. The wording for the questions will not count towards the word count.
- This assessment should be double-spaced, size 12 font, and written in APA style; see the following website for assistance with this: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/>
- The UNSW Learning Centre can provide support for academic writing and referencing styles: <https://student.unsw.edu.au/skills>
- All assessments should be submitted through Turnitin on the course's Moodle website (see Turnitin spot in Learning Activity pane).

Assessment 3: Workplace Resource or Report (40%) – 2000 words (not including reference list)

You will critically evaluate key literature related to wellbeing and resilience. To do this, you will choose one of the following options:

1. Create an annotated bibliography for a school principal or department-level policy-maker (e.g., from the Board of Studies) interested in improving the school-level support for educator wellbeing and resilience.
OR
2. Write a persuasive report about the importance of attending to educator wellbeing and resilience at school.

This assignment will help you further develop understanding of the course content, critical thinking skills, research and evaluation skills, and the correct use of APA referencing style.

Details for the Annotated Bibliography:

If you choose this option, you will develop an annotated bibliography with 6 sources. The topic of the annotated bibliography is evidence-based practices for supporting wellbeing and resilience among educators. Your aim is to create a resource that will be helpful for supporting wellbeing and resilience among educators. You should frame the annotated bibliography such that it will provide a useful overview of some key literature/concepts/knowledge/outcomes on these topics.

Your annotated bibliography will have two parts.

Part 1: Introduction (around 200 words)

- Describe the intended target audience (e.g., a school principal, school board, or department-level policy-maker).
- Describe very briefly why you chose the sources you did (Did you want to focus on some theme in particular? Are they practice-oriented or theory-based? Etc.).
- Describe how you have ordered the sources. Think carefully about a reading order that will allow the target audience to consider major concepts before moving onto more specific issues.

Part 2: Sources

- Your annotated bibliography should contain 6 sources that meet the following criteria:
  - a) Peer reviewed journal articles published in the last 10 years.
  - b) Relevant to your audience (school principals or department-level policy-makers).
  - c) Up to two of the assigned readings from this course and any number of the further readings.
  - d) Encyclopaedia or dictionaries may be consulted to learn background about your topic, but they will not be counted as one of your 6 sources.
- Each annotation should be approximately 300 words and contain:
  - a) a brief synopsis of the article (including brief definitions of key terms);
  - b) a sentence or two about how this source is relevant for your target audience; and
  - c) a sentence or two with some example strategies suggested by the article.

Important notes:

- It is important that you show depth of understanding of the source. This is achieved by summarising the most relevant/major points in your own words.
- Briefly define any key terms that aren't common knowledge (e.g., autonomous motivation, basic psychological needs).
- Make practical links for the audience to see how this resource is relevant.

Details for the Report:

It you choose this option, you will write a persuasive report about the importance of attending to educators' wellbeing and resilience in schools. Please address the following points:

- Target audience: State at top of report (e.g., principals or policy-makers from the Board of Studies).
- What are wellbeing and resilience? Define in your own words (while citing the literature). This should be reader-friendly and draw from the academic literature.
- Why are wellbeing and resilience particularly relevant for teachers? Explain the nature of teaching work and why wellbeing and resilience are important in this context. Include links to at least one theory.
- What are research-supported outcomes that may result from efforts to support teachers' wellbeing and resilience? Describe at least 3 research-supported outcomes (financial, social, academic, etc.). Include outcomes relevant to educators as well as students.
- Conclusion: Include a paragraph that summarises main points from your sections.

Important notes:

- At the top of your report, identify the target audience.
- Refer to at least 6 academic sources (e.g., journals, books).
- This report should be written in third person.
- Include brief definitions of key terms and constructs (e.g., burnout, autonomy)
- Use quotes sparingly. I would like to see paraphrasing in your own words instead.
- You are strongly encouraged to copy the questions from above into your response to use as subheadings. The wording for the questions will not count towards the word count.
- The occasional use of dot points is acceptable for this assessment as they will make it more accessible for the audience (who tends to have limited time and will want a concise and informative report).

Important Notes Relevant to Both Assessment Options:

- This assessment should be double-spaced, size 12 font, and written in APA style; see the following website for assistance with this: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/>
- The UNSW Learning Centre can provide support for academic writing and referencing styles: <https://student.unsw.edu.au/skills>
- All assessments should be submitted through Turnitin on the course's Moodle website (see Turnitin spot in Learning Activity pane).
