Summary of Course
This course is designed to increase a student's pedagogical content knowledge for Japanese teaching. The key elements of pedagogy and Japanese content knowledge are examined and developed. Students will critically address how these elements can then be combined into effective classroom practice for addressing the requirements and philosophy of the NSW Japanese syllabuses.

Aims of the Course
This course aims to:

- Increase a student’s pedagogical content knowledge for Japanese teaching.
- Develop a student’s understanding of what comprises effective classroom practice.

Important information
Assessment: Please note that all students must pass all assignments to pass the course, and they must pass the course to go on placement for PE 1.

Attendance: Students are expected to give priority to university study commitments. Unless specific and formal permission has been granted, attendance at less than 80% of classes in a course may result in failure.

4. RATIONALE FOR THE INCLUSION OF CONTENT AND TEACHING APPROACH

This subject aims to develop in each student the ability to effectively teach Japanese to secondary school students with an emphasis on the NSW Japanese curriculum. During the course students will develop their knowledge of the New South Wales syllabus documents for stages 4, 5 and 6. Lectures, tutorials and assignments will cover a variety of approaches to teaching and learning in the Japanese classroom. Emphasis will be given to the relationship between Japanese, literacy and numeracy and the role and value of Japanese in the curriculum and the community.

Student-centred activities will form the basis of the course. These activities will draw on the prior knowledge of the students and will allow them to engage in relevant and challenging experiences that mirror those they will be expected to design for the secondary students they will later teach.
5. TEACHING STRATEGIES

- Explicit teaching, including lectures, to demonstrate an understanding of students’ different approaches to learning and the use of a range of teaching strategies to foster interest and support learning.
- Small group cooperative learning to understand the importance of teamwork in an educational context and to demonstrate the use of group structures as appropriate to address teaching and learning goals.
- Extensive opportunities for whole group and small group dialogue and discussion, allowing students the opportunity to demonstrate their capacity to communicate and liaise with the diverse members of an education community, and to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of method content.
- Structured occasions for reflection on learning to allow students to reflect critically on and improve teaching practice.
- Online learning from readings on Moodle.
- Online discussions via Moodle.
- Peer teaching in a simulated classroom setting.

These activities will occur in a classroom climate that is supportive and inclusive of all learners.

HURDLE REQUIREMENTS

ASSESSMENT 2 - MICROTEACHING

Microteaching is the planning, presentation and evaluation of a lesson over a shortened period of time (a 10 minute mini-lesson). It is a critical aspect of method as it provides students with the opportunity to demonstrate key competencies that must be achieved before student teachers are permitted to undertake Professional Experience 1, at the same time observing other student teachers and engaging in peer review. It is recommended that students read widely on effective classroom strategies and practise aspects of their mini-lesson with a small group of peers prior to assessment.

The assessment process will consist of the following two components:

1. A detailed lesson plan using the prescribed template, including a statement of expected learning outcomes
2. A 10 minute mini-lesson

Initial Lesson Plan: All students must submit to the method lecturer their proposed lesson plan at least one week prior to the presentation. This will be returned with comments on the suitability of the proposal.

Microteaching: This will be assessed according to the attached criteria, and will be graded as Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory. Any student whose first microteaching episode is judged as unsatisfactory will be given a further (one only) opportunity to gain a satisfactory grade.

NOTE: If a student is assessed as unsatisfactory in microteaching s/he will automatically fail Method 1 overall, and not be permitted to undertake Professional Experience or any further method work in that teaching area until the key concerns have been resolved.

Imagine you are teaching a mixed ability class in a comprehensive public high school. A diverse range of religious and cultural groups are represented in this class. Many of these students are very capable learners however, a small number of students have not met literacy benchmarks and one student has a physical disability.

Design a kit of 5 resources that can be used to teach a mini Japanese unit of work based on your chosen theme/topic. You must accommodate as much as possible the learning needs of your class. Your tutor will provide you with the necessary pro formas. You must create the resources yourself.

Submit the following by midnight 14 May 2015:

1. Unit description
   In the provided Unit proforma you must include:
   - the target group

HURDLE REQUIREMENT

Creating a Contemporary Classroom - Hands on with Digital Technologies

Active participation in 2 x 1.5 hour sessions taken by a specialist in technology enabled learning and teaching to help prepare student teachers to understand and use digital technologies in their contemporary classrooms, and assessed by Method lecturers.

These technologies will include:

Session 1
- Presentation tools and classroom equipment including interactive whiteboards;
- Online sites, tools and communities including blogs, wikis, iTunesU, icourses etc;

Session 2
- Web based enquiry learning resources, including webquests;
- One–to-one technologies including ipads, netbooks and notebooks and the technologies which support shared learning on individual devices; and
- Resources to create contemporary lessons see: Flipped classroom

Resources

TPACK (created by Dr. Matthew Koehler and Dr. Punya Mishra http://www.tpack.org/), Technological Pedagogical Content Knowledge (TPACK) is a framework that identifies the knowledge teachers need to teach effectively with technology.

S A M R (created by Dr. Ruben R. Pupectedura); provides a framework to answer the question of what types of technology use would have greater or lesser effects upon student learning.

Rural & Distance Education NSW: A local resource presenting both frameworks, http://rde.nsw.edu.au/tpack-samr

Teaching Teachers for the Future - What is TPACK?, http://www.ttf.edu.au/what-is-tpack/what-is-tpack.html

Reflections of pre-service teachers, http://www.ttf.edu.au/psts-talk.html; this series of video clips shows the reflections of several pre-service teachers each of whom trialled one of the twelve Teaching Teachers for the Future (TTF) Australian Curriculum resource packages with a practicum class. At the end of their lesson the pre-service teachers were invited to reflect on the experience of working with the resource package and adapting it to their class situation. They were also asked to reflect on their understanding of TPACK.

Student teachers are encouraged to set up their own blog (it is free) at Edublog, http://edublogs.org/ to create and share resources and lessons they create.
Submission of Assessment Tasks

Students are required to follow their lecturer’s instructions when submitting their work for assessment. Some work may be required to be submitted in class but most assessments are to be delivered to the locked boxes near the School of Education office and submitted online via Moodle. Students are also required to keep all drafts, original data and other evidence of the authenticity of the work for at least one year after examination. If an assessment is mislaid the student is responsible for providing a further copy.

A penalty of 3% per day (24 hours) applies to work submitted after the due date without an approved extension. Extension forms are available from the School of Education office and must be approved by the appropriate course coordinator prior to the due date. Extensions will only be granted for illness or serious problems beyond a student's control. Please note that the submission of a request for an extension does not necessarily guarantee approval of the request. Requests for extensions on the grounds of illness must be supported by a medical certificate or other documentation. This process does not take the place of lodging an application for Special Consideration and students must consider the merits of both options available. Please note that computer malfunctions will not be considered as sufficient grounds for extension.
