Summary of Course

This course continues to prepare student teachers for the teaching of Japanese in secondary schools in NSW. Lectures, tutorials and assessments cover a variety of essential aspects of the teaching profession. Emphasis is given to developing skills in; reporting for effective learning, creating and maintaining safe and challenging learning environments, improving professional knowledge and practice and being an active member of their profession and the wider community.

The main ways in which the course has changed since last time as a result of student feedback:

- All students will be required to research and present useful classroom learning activities to present in tutorial, to incorporate more hands-on activities.

Aims of the Course

This course aims to:

- Develop student teachers' skills in assessing and reporting on student achievement and in using assessment information to inform planning.
- Develop student teachers' skills in building rapport with students and creating and maintaining safe and challenging learning environments.

- Build student teachers' capacity to be actively engaged members of their profession and the wider community.

Important Information

Assessment: Students must pass ALL assignments in order to pass the course. Only by passing all assignments can the Graduate Attributes (AITSL Professional Graduate Teaching Standards) be achieved.

Attendance: Students are expected to give priority to university study commitments. Unless specific and formal permission has been granted, failure to attend 80% of classes in a course may result in failure.

4. RATIONALE FOR THE INCLUSION OF CONTENT AND TEACHING APPROACH

The course content covers a range of essential aspects of pedagogy specific to the teaching of Languages other than English in secondary schools. The teaching and learning philosophy underpinning this course is one of active engagement. The course is highly interactive, requiring students to participate by contributing their experience, knowledge and skills, carrying out research, involving themselves in dialogue with the lecturer and other students both in and out of class, undertaking self-reflection and taking responsibility for their own learning. The learning tasks provided will be challenging, highly practical and relevant to the teaching profession.

5. TEACHING STRATEGIES

Teaching strategies used during the course will include:

- Small group cooperative learning to understand the importance of teamwork in an educational context and to demonstrate the use of group structures as appropriate to address teaching and learning goals.
- Explicit teaching, including lectures, to demonstrate an understanding of students' different approaches to learning and the use of a range of teaching strategies to foster interest and support learning.
- Extensive opportunities for whole group and small group dialogue and discussion, allowing students the opportunity to demonstrate their capacity to communicate and liaise with the diverse members of an education community, and to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of method content.
- Structured occasions for reflection on learning, such as the use of learning journals, to allow students to reflect critically on and improve teaching practice.
- Online learning from readings on Moodle.

These activities will occur in a classroom climate that is supportive and inclusive of all learners.

Assessment 1 – Planning a Class Excursion

1. You are to visit, in your own time, an easily accessible public venue in Sydney. For example, The Art Gallery of NSW, The Power House Museum, The Japan Foundation or any area of particular significance for a Languages student. Please include a photo of the excursion site.
- You are to link this excursion to a 7-10 Languages Syllabus Suggested Theme/ Topic (stage 4&5) or a year 11 (stage 6) Syllabus Theme/Topic. Include details of specific literacy and numeracy needs and strategies needed to inform teaching of Japanese.
  - You are to plan an excursion for your Year 7-11 class and write a rationale for the Principal, justifying the outing in terms of syllabus requirements. You must discuss the academic and cultural backgrounds of the Stage 4, 5 or 6 class and why you believe this excursion would meet the learning needs of the group. You should outline the timing of the excursion, allowing time for travel, observation and breaks. (It may help to think of a particular school so that you can accurately plan travel, but please provide a fake school name.)
  - Discuss how you would use this excursion as the basis of a series of lessons (at least three). You DO NOT have to supply detailed lesson plans but you will need to detail exactly what you want the students to learn from particular exhibits, or features of the excursion. You must give a clear indication of specifically what you want the students to see, understand and do and while on the excursion.

- You should indicate how you would assess and moderate the learning and the activities in which students would engage in order to achieve the learning goals.
- Write a risk assessment, permission form and article about the excursion for inclusion in the school newsletter.

Assessment 2 –Assessment, Feedback and Reporting 50%

You are to create an assessment task for year 10, 11 or 12. Write an assessment of the learning task including the assessment task notice, assessment rubric and marking guidelines, student's answer, feedback and report grade and comment. Please note that you are to write every part of this task yourself, including the "student's answer".

You must provide:

- Scope and sequence for the year, highlighting where the assessment takes place.

Your assessment task must assess:

- listening or reading skills.

Your assessment task notice must include:

- a description of the learners
- the learning context in which the assessment task takes place
- the targeted outcomes.

You must also provide a 'student's' answer for the task, for which you will provide:

- the feedback you would give to the student
- how you will use this information to plan further teaching/learning experiences for your students.

You must include:

- the grade you would give the student on their report for the skill you have assessed, as well as the comment you would write to parents about the student's attainment of the outcomes in relation to this skill.

In this part of the assignment, you will demonstrate your understanding of how formative and summative assessment form an integral part of the teaching and learning process, as acting on feedback and correcting errors means assessments of learning can also be used for learning.

HURDLE REQUIREMENT

FEEDBACK AND REPORTING

Assessment is the process of gathering evidence from a variety of sources about learning outcomes and being able to use that information to improve learning and teaching. Evidence includes not only individual student work samples and test results, but also more global data derived from standardized tests (eg NAPLAN, ICAS, HSC etc) as well as more qualitative information generated from student self and peer evaluations, and student-parent conferences.

Feedback is a structured interaction with the student about their current learning: where they are, where they want and /or need to be and how to get there. It may be in oral or written form and may be given by the teacher, by the student's peers or take the form of self-assessment. Feedback needs to indicate learning that has been demonstrated (achieved) as well as what needs more work. For the feedback to also feed forward, comments need to provide students with strategies to guide their improvement. Feedback /reporting to and for parents is also important as they are critical stakeholders and partners in their children's learning.

Moderation is a process used by teachers to compare their judgements about student performance so that assessment is trustworthy. Teachers work together as a group to ensure that the way they use assessment grades is consistent with agreed or published standards. For A to E grades this means the grade a student receives in one school can be fairly compared to the same grade anywhere in NSW. For school-based tasks, it means the work of students in different classes can be assessed using the same success criteria to evaluate progress toward learning outcomes.

View some work samples that teachers in your subject area have aligned to grades A to E at BOSTES or ACARA workshops.

It is recommended that students read widely on how to design appropriate assessment tasks, how moderate student samples of work and how to provide effective feedback. Tutorial time will be allocated to discussing this aspect of professional competence and providing experience with the moderation and feedback process.

The assessment process consists of two components.

A collection of five or six authentic student responses to preferably two assessment tasks. The responses may be written, visual or oral. The number depends on the length of the response. For each text:

- ensure anonymity by removing student names and destroying the samples at the end of the course.
- include the instructions that were given for the assessment task and indicate whether the task was intended for formative purposes or summative and formative purposes
- annotate the task to indicate what worked well and what needs changing if it were to be used again
- include the marking scheme/rubric for each task
- provide annotations (with time codes if your sample is audio- or video-based) to indicate what the student has demonstrated as areas of strength and areas that need to be developed further in relation to the task
- include a key for marking symbols
- find out what the general expectation and/or current standards of the school/system are in relation to this subject area/topic/skill by consulting published NAPLAN/HSC/other relevant data, as well as talking to teachers, and consider where this student work is in relation to those overall expectations/standards as well in relation to their previous performance

- provide written feedback for the student which indicates strengths and areas for improvement in relation to this work sample as well as their past performance and overall expectations/standards. Suggest a strategy that will guide the student in his/her learning. (If the task was used summatively you can still use it for formative purposes.)
  - indicate what the implications of your evaluation might be for the teacher in terms of future teaching.
2. Write a few lines that could be included in a mid-year report comment to parents. Provide enough detail to indicate to parents which aspect of the student's performance you are commenting on. Add A, B, C, D or E to align with the advice and work samples provided by BOSTES and ACARA.

NOTES:

The student work samples must be authentic. They should have been collected during Professional Experience 1 during a normal assessment task and/or provided by the method lecturer. Annotated student work samples, notes and all other written evidence of teacher education students' ability to address Standard 5 to be discussed in class and submitted by the due date.

If a student is assessed as Unsatisfactory in the feedback and reporting hurdle requirement, s/he will automatically fail Method 2 overall, and not be permitted to undertake Professional Experience or any further method work in that teaching area until the key concerns have been resolved.
