Summary of Course

The course will give students a firm understanding of the continuum of the Visual Arts curriculum in New South Wales from years 7 to 12, with an emphasis on planning sequences of learning and assessment for Stage 6. In particular, students will be encouraged to critically examine the content and structure of the Stage 6 Visual Arts Syllabus. The course introduces pre-service teachers to the practice of planning, implementing and assessing learning in Visual Arts with particular emphasis on the senior years of high school. The course is also designed to develop understanding of current issues shaping visual arts education. Learning will be contextualised in relation to knowledge about the nature of visual arts and visual arts education in Australia. This course provides students with the opportunities to learn and reflect on professional skills such as communicating their approach to visual arts learning and participating in professional organisation

The main ways in which the course has changed since last time as a result of student feedback:
Time in tutorials to discuss assessment requirements.

Important Information

Assessment: Students must pass ALL assignments in order to pass the course. Only by passing all assignments can the Graduate Attributes (AITSL Professional Graduate Teaching Standards) be achieved.

Attendance: Students are expected to give priority to university study commitments. Unless specific and formal permission has been granted, failure to attend 80% of classes in a course will result in failure.

4. RATIONALE FOR THE INCLUSION OF CONTENT AND TEACHING APPROACH

This subject aims to develop in each student the ability to effectively teach visual arts to secondary school students with an emphasis on the Stage 6 Visual Arts (years 11 -12) syllabus.

During the course students will develop their knowledge of New South Wales syllabus documents, learn how to design lessons and units of work and explore issues in relation to the state of visual arts education in NSW. Lectures, tutorials and assignments will cover a variety of approaches to teaching, learning and assessment in the visual arts classroom. Emphasis will be given to the relationship between visual arts, literacy and numeracy and the role and value of visual arts in the curriculum and the community.

Student-centred activities will form the basis of the course. These activities will draw on the prior knowledge of the students and will allow them to engage in relevant and challenging experiences that mirror those they will be expected to design for the secondary students they will later teach.

5. TEACHING STRATEGIES

- Explicit teaching, including lectures, to demonstrate an understanding of students' different approaches to learning and the use of a range of teaching strategies to foster interest and support learning.
- Small group cooperative learning to understand the importance of teamwork in an educational context and to demonstrate the use of group structures as appropriate to address teaching and learning goals.
- Extensive opportunities for whole group and small group dialogue and discussion, allowing students the opportunity to demonstrate their capacity to communicate and liaise with the diverse members of an education community, and to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of method content.
- Online learning from readings on the Moodle website.
- Peer teaching in a simulated classroom setting.
- Structured occasions for reflection on learning to allow students to reflect critically on and improve teaching practice.

These activities will occur in a classroom climate that is supportive and inclusive of all learners.

Students are required to follow their lecturer's instructions when submitting their work for assessment. All assessment will be submitted online via Moodle by 5pm. Student no longer need to use a cover sheet. Students are also required to keep all drafts, original data and other evidence of the authenticity of the work for at least one year after examination. If an assessment is mislaid the student is responsible for providing a further copy. Please see the Student Policies and Procedures for information regarding submission, extensions, special consideration, late penalties and hurdle requirements etc.

Assessment 1: Devise a Scope and Sequence Plan for one unit of work (10 weeks). Use the template provided (on Moodle).

The scope and sequence plan should be an original design and include:

- A) Rationale for the selection of content for a Preliminary course, Stage 6, Year 11. This rationale is important because it allows you to describe how you have put together the unit and why you have chosen to address the syllabus outcomes in the way you did. Explain your reasoning for the structuring and sequencing of content for the 10 week unit of the preliminary course, for your choice of focus questions and your inclusion of focus artist/artworks. Length: 400-600 words.
- B) Identify the learning outcomes that will be addressed in this unit of work for art making and art criticism and history. Identify the focus works (include an image) and the expressive form. Remember that carefully designed assessment tasks allow students to demonstrate achievement of the outcomes.
- C) Provide a succinct overview of syllabus content addressed within the sequence of art making, art critical and historical investigations. (Bring draft to class week 4 for feedback.)
- D) Details of the art making and art critical/historical assessment tasks also need to be specified in brief. Note also the weightings of each assessment task. (This will be covered in Week 2)

Note: Both the art critical / historical and art making assessment tasks need to have two parts: A and B. There will be a mid-term assessment (formative) and called Part A and an assessment (summative) that occurs at the end of the term called part B. Please read through Assignment 2. These two assignments are connected.

When devising this Scope and Sequence plan consider how:

- you will scaffold the teaching and learning over time and how you will introduce, develop and resolve student processes and development in art making, art history and art criticism.
- the content and activities contribute to and build on student understanding of particular concepts in artmaking and art criticism and art history.
- the plan incorporates understandings drawn from the practice of the focus artists identified in the scope and sequence.
- you will employ appropriate and sound assessment practices, including assessment for learning.

Further details and strategies for planning a scope and sequence and preliminary course assessment tasks will be provided in your tutorial.

NB: The ticks in the various boxes are designed to provide feedback to students; they are not given equal weight in determining the recommended grade. Assessment 2

A) Construct a summative assessment task nominated in your Assignment 1 Scope and Sequence plan. This will be the artmaking. Your assessment task should allow students to demonstrate their achievement of the learning outcomes. The assessment task and marking guidelines should be no more than 2 pages in length and 500 words not including the marking guidelines.

B) Create and document an example of an excellent response to the artmaking assessment task identified above. The documented response must be submitted with your assignment and be no more than 2 pages in length or 3 mins of video (You may wish to take step by step images or a photo essay of the final work).

You have been asked to create a response to the formative art making assessment task so that you take on board the real challenges of the task and have stepped into the role of the student.

The documentation of the response might include scanned art diary pages and/or images of artworks in development etc. You can discuss options for the documentation with your tutor.

C) Reflect on the process of completing your own artmaking assessment task. Did attempting the task force you to re-consider / or consider more carefully what students are expected to know, understand or be able to do in order to be successful? Did you to adjust the task (and perhaps improve on it?) because you attempted the task yourself? How did attempting the task help you to develop guidelines and criteria that are authentic? Your reflection should not be more than one typed page. Approx. 500 words

Each assessment task will be presented in a format that could be handed out to students and will include:

- Title of the task, weightings and course component details
- An outline of the task, this will be an overview of the task and reference will be made to the syllabus content addressed. Remember to write this as if it is for a Year 11 class. Tasks must provide explicit criteria for the quality of work students are to produce.
- Marking criteria/guidelines for the two tasks must be also submitted. The marking criteria must directly reference the explicit criteria given for the task.
- At least one task must specifically engage students with information and communication technology and reflect an understanding of the literacy demands of the Visual Arts curriculum.
- At least one task must reflect an understanding of the ATSI competencies of the Visual Arts curriculum.
- At least one task must incorporate use of the art diary.

You might include: images of key source material that is a stimulus for the task; instructions; step-by-step guidelines or scaffolds.

In designing the assessment tasks consider how they:

- create conditions in which students are required to demonstrate their understanding of the content/ subject you have nominated for study.
- are appropriate for the Preliminary course of study as indicated in the outcomes and standards for the Stage 6 course.
- reflect sound assessment practices and assessment for learning.
- address the range of learning and teaching activities represented in the Scope and Sequence (Assignment 1).
- represent interesting, authentic, engaging interpretations of content.
- cater for a range of student abilities and explicitly build from student's background knowledge to incorporate new knowledge.

E) Provide a feedback sheet for the assessment task. Fill in an 'A' range, 'B' Range and 'C' range comment. Approx. 600 words in total.

Further details and strategies for planning preliminary course assessment tasks will be provided in your tutorial.

HURDLE REQUIREMENT

FEEDBACK AND REPORTING

Assessment is the process of gathering evidence from a variety of sources about learning outcomes and being able to use that information to improve learning and teaching. Evidence includes not only individual student work samples and test results, but also more global data derived from standardized tests (eg NSPLAN, ICAS, HSC etc) as well as more qualitative information generated from student self and peer evaluations, and student-parent conferences.

Feedback is a structured interaction with the student about their current learning: where they are, where they want and /or need to be and how to get there. It may be in oral or written form and may be given by the teacher, by the student's peers or take the form of self-assessment. Feedback needs to indicate learning that has been demonstrated (achieved) as well as what needs more work. For the feedback to also feed forward, comments need to provide students with strategies to guide their improvement. Feedback /reporting to and for parents is also important as they are critical stakeholders and partners in their children's learning.

Moderation is a process used by teachers to compare their judgements about student performance so that assessment is trustworthy. Teachers work together as a group to ensure that the way they use assessment grades is consistent with agreed or published standards. For A to E grades this means the grade a student receives in one school can be fairly compared to the same grade anywhere in NSW. For school-based tasks, it means the work of students in different classes can be assessed using the same success criteria to evaluate progress toward learning outcomes.

View some work samples that teachers in your subject area have aligned to grades A to E at NESA or ACARA workshops.

It is recommended that students read widely on how to design appropriate assessment tasks, how moderate student samples of work and how to provide effective feedback. Tutorial time will be allocated to discussing this aspect of professional competence and providing experience with the moderation and feedback process.

The assessment process consists of two components.

- A collection of five or six authentic student texts (one can be oral, one can be visual). The number depends on the length of the text. For each text
 - ensure anonymity by removing student names and destroying the samples at the end of the course.
 - include the instructions that were given for the assessment task and indicate whether the task was intended for formative purposes or summative and formative purposes
 - annotate the task to indicate what worked well and what needs changing if it were to be used again
 - include the marking scheme/rubric for each task
 - provide annotations (with time codes if your sample is audio- or video-based) to indicate what the student has demonstrated as areas of strength and areas that need to be developed further in relation to the task
 - include a key for marking symbols
 - find out what the general expectation and/or current standards of the school/system are in relation to this subject area/topic/skill by consulting published NAPLAN/HSC/other relevant data, as well as talking to teachers, and consider where this student work is in relation to those overall expectations/standards as well in relation to their previous performance
 - provide written feedback for the student which indicates strengths and areas for improvement in relation to this work sample as well as their past performance and overall expectations/standards. Suggest a strategy that will guide the student in his/her learning. (If the task was used summatively you can still use it for formative purposes.)
 - indicate what the implications of your evaluation might be for the teacher in terms of future teaching.

2. Write a few lines that could be included in a mid-year report comment to parents. Provide enough detail to indicate to parents which aspect of the student's performance you are commenting on. Add A, B, C, D or E to align with the advice and work samples provided by BOSTES and ACARA.

NOTES:

The student work samples must be authentic. They should have been collected during Professional Experience 1 during a normal assessment task and/or provided by the method lecturer. Annotated student work samples, notes and all other written evidence of teacher education students' ability to address Standard 5 to be discussed in class and submitted by the due date.

If a student is assessed as Unsatisfactory in the feedback and reporting hurdle requirement, s/he will automatically fail Method 2 overall, and not be permitted to undertake Professional Experience or any further method work in that teaching area until the key concerns have been resolved.
