Research Students in Education
Call for Participation in a Conference
Friday, 8 November 2013
The University of New South Wales, Sydney, Australia

You are invited to submit proposals for presentation at the Third Annual Higher Degree Research Student-Led Conference, a one-day student conference in education. Paper and poster submissions are open to postgraduate research students from universities across Australia.

Topics can be anything related to education, such as:
~ Assessment and Evaluation
~ Curriculum
~ Educational Technologies
~ Higher Education

~ Learning and Teaching
~ Politics and Policy in Education
~ Special Education/Gifted Education
~ Teacher Education

Conference benefits:
~ Exchange of ideas
~ Opportunity for publication
~ Experience in presenting research
~ Rewarding experience with peers
~ Feedback on your research
~ Student networking

Extended Deadline for Paper and Poster Submissions: 30 September 2013
Proposal Guidelines, Portal for Submissions, Questions and Additional Information:
web: https://education.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/opportunities/higher-degree-research-student-conference/
email: stud.conf.UNSW13@gmail.com

Keynote Speakers

Professor Sue Starfield, Assoc. Professor, School of Education and Director of The Learning Centre, UNSW
Talk Title: Lessons from the literature: What can we learn from the research that is helpful to thesis writers?
Sue’s previous research and publications cover tertiary academic literacies, doctoral writing, writing for publication, identity in academic writing, ethnographic research methods and language policy, access and equity in higher education, she is co-author of Thesis and Dissertation Writing in a Second Language: A Handbook for Supervisors, and co-editor of the Handbook of English for Specific Purposes.

Professor Ronald Laura, Professor in Philosophy of Education, The University of Newcastle Talk Title: Educational Computopia: are we too plugged in?
Educated at Harvard, Cambridge and Oxford, Dr Laura is the author of more than 40 published books and 350 articles; Past President of the Philosophy of Education Society of Australia, Past Chairman of the Committee of Australian Education Deans and a recipient of the Hands on Health Community Service Award 2012.

Registration is free for presenters and other participants.